Marshall Longtin — Resume-to-Life Portfolio

Welcome to my personal portfolio website, built to bring my resume to life through clean design, storytelling, and interactivity.

This project highlights my work in data science, economics, and machine learning, as well as my experiences across research, analytics, athletics, and entrepreneurship.

About the Project
A traditional resume can only say so much. This site showcases my journey through visuals, data, and design.
It includes:
- Dynamic experience timeline and project feed
- Live GitHub integration (projects auto-update)
- Mobile-first responsive layout
- Recruiter-optimized, print-friendly design

Tech Stack
- HTML5 / CSS3 / JavaScript
- GitHub Pages for hosting
- Google Fonts (Inter)
- Formspree for contact form handling
- Plausible Analytics (lightweight, privacy-first analytics)

Sections
- About — Background, interests, and academic focus
- Experience — Interactive timeline of research, work, and leadership
- Projects — Live GitHub repository feed
- Athletics — Gallery of sports and achievements
- Contact — Direct form submission and LinkedIn links
